Former USPGA champion, Rich Beem will be the star attraction at the upcoming Gujarat Kensville Challenge 2013. The third edition of the challenge will witness top golfers of the country, including former champion Gaganjit Bhullar, as well as European players in the 120-participant competition, the organisers announced on Tuesday.

“Beem, who once beat Tiger Woods, will make his presence felt. It is a privilege to host such a major champion,” said Sameer Sinha, managing director of Kensville Golf and Country club. Meanwhile, the organiser also declared that Khalin Joshi, S Chikkarangappa, Angad Cheema and Subhankar Sharma have been given ‘wild card’ entries to the challenge.
